The “Why” for me is that many young people are missing key interpersonal skills that are preventing them from the success they deserve, want and desire.

At an early stage in my life, I didn’t know what tomorrow would bring, so I have made it my passion, mission and purpose in life to provide the necessary guidance, leadership, and direction to middle and high school students.

So, if you are looking for a genuine, authentic and compassionate speaker, Coach T® is the perfect fit!

"I just finished reading this book, and I am so impressed! It's honestly one of the best books I've read that will help me be a better parent to my teenager.

This book gives a clear blueprint for raising kids to be empowered and become leaders. Coach T shares so much wisdom from his years of mentoring kids, and he also includes inspiring stories highlighting the impact that he is having on their lives.

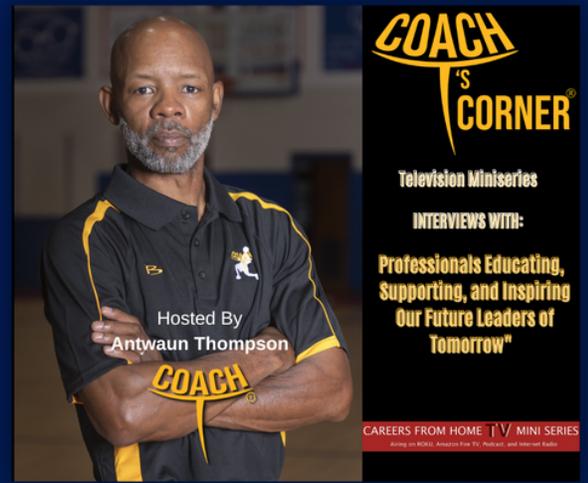

This is an amazing book for anyone who spends time with kids as a parent, educator, coach, etc. I will definitely be implementing his S.E.A. Of SUCCESS framework with my kids!

I highly recommend this book!"
